

The Parrot Mill

come stay with us...

The Parrot Mill Inn at Chatham was built as a mill house in 1780. Originally located on the Fishawack River, it was later moved to its present location on Main Street and served as a home for the Parrot family for over a century. The Dutch Gambrel roof on the house is characteristic of many of Chatham's early buildings.

When you visit us, you will enjoy the ambiance of a unique colonial residence, the charm of a bygone era, yet with all the comfort and conveniences of today.

The Parrot Mill Inn is ideally located near major corporate offices and universities. The surrounding area also boasts outstanding restaurants, fine shopping, antiquing, and several points of historical interest. The lovely downtown is within walking distance from the Inn and a short car or train ride into downtown Manhattan.

We offer 11 finely appointed rooms, all with their own private full baths. Also available are gathering rooms and large grounds for your corporate or special events.

Located in a quite & historic town, just minutes by car or train to downtown Manhattan!

Historic Chatham...

The Parrot Mill Inn is just a short train or car ride to Manhattan and within walking distance to the shopping district of beautiful, historic downtown Chatham. Chatham is host to many casual, as well as, upscale shops and restaurants.

Ranked the 9th best place to live in America—Money Magazine 2005, Chatham, is a quiet and charming community that captures the best of small-town suburbia. Settled in the hills of north-central New Jersey Watchung Mountains, Chatham offers an active community nestled in scenic surroundings. With a population of nearly 20,000,

Chatham has many amenities of a larger town—diverse shopping and dining opportunities, a thriving art scene, and efficient public transportation, while still preserving the charm of Main Street America.
